

Best Sushi :: Uchi

Our first clue that Uchi is all about quality — they fly their fish in daily from Tsukijij market, in Tokyo. Executive chef, Tyson Cole, prepares his signature dishes by taking traditional sushi and adding great non-traditional ingredients, creating brand new flavors and textures that tickle your taste buds. Can't decide what to order? Grab a glass of wine, head outside to their romantic patio and snatch a few tasty samples from the oh-so-gracious waitresses. Hint: regulars love the hot rock appetizer (wagyu beef with ponzu sauce on a Japanese river rock), and the bond, endo and shag rolls will not only impress your eyes, but your tummy will thank you too.

801 S. Lamar Blvd.

512-916-4808

uchiaustin.com

Honorable Mentions: Maiko, Kenichi

13

FOOD

