"Every detail is perfect" at "passionate" chef Tyson Cole's "elegant", "modern" Zilker Japanese, from the absolutely "swoon-worthy" dishes – once again ranked No. 1 for Food in Austin – to the near-"flawless" service from a "knowledgeable" staff; perpetual "waits" hardly deter the faithful, but brace yourself for a bill that "mounts up fast."

Wow! I have lived in Austin all of my life and am so pleased to find a restaurant like this. Even though it is quite a drive for me from Central Austin, it is well worth the drive (and the wait). The fish is VERY fresh and the service is amazing. I would suggest getting there early if a weekend or going during the week. Either way it is worth it!

Great food and service. Waiter provided great recommendation - spicy scallop and hama chili yellowtail sashimi were our favorites. Worth every penny.

Somebodies trying way too hard to make a name for themselves!! Your not allowed to customize any of the sushi it might insult the chef. I just thought was a pretentious load of bull.

Some of the best Sushi ANYWHERE. Creative dishes with impeccable attention to detail and service that's over the top. Forget the soy sauce and wasabi because you don't need it, amazing marriages of flavor. Be sure and try some of the specials on the last page of the menu, they change every day using only the freshest ingredients. Get there for happy hour it is a bit friendlier to your wallet. A "must not miss" place for dining in Austin!

Wow, it is amazing that Tyson is able to put things together to create such amazing flavors that are so unexpected. Uchi is consistently good on all fronts. Who thought the best sushi place ever would be landlocked in Austin Texas???
